LYLOYD S. FRAZER IS HONORED

Receives Appointment As Major in United States Army But Will Remain in England

Mr. Lloyd S. Frazer, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Frazer, of this city, has at the request of the British War Department been appointed a Major in the U. S. Army. When the United States declared war on Germany he was assistant Manager of the Standard Oil Company with headquarters at Johannesburg, South Africa, he cabled his company and travelled over seven thousand miles to reach London where he attempted to attach himself to a contingent of the American army there but being without military training they could not accept him, he then offered his services to the British and on account of his training was at once placed on the "Technical Staff" of their aeroplane board which position he now holds and while his commission will be with the United States he will be transferred to the British and will continue his present work.

This appointment is the highest one to be received by a Mt. Sterling man and the legion of friends of this sterling young Kentuckian are proud of him and are confident that he will hold with honor this highly responsible position.

DIES IN MISSOURI

Relatives here have received word that Mr. James L. Shubert, died at his home in Adrian, Mo., August 3rd, following an operation at Kansas City, Mo. Mr. Shubert was born in this county in 1845 but moved to Missouri in 1872 where he has since resided. He is survived by his wife and one son Bruce Shubert and one daughter Mrs. Bertha Lamar. He will be remembered by many of our older citizens who will regret to learn of his death. Mr. Shubert was related to the Shubert, Stephens and Vanarsdell families of this and adjoining counties.

RINGO'S CAFE TO CLOSE

Ringo's Cafe, one of the oldest and most popular establishments, of its character in the State will close its doors to the public October 1st. This step has been made necessary owing to poor business due in a large measure to so many of its patrons among the younger men of the city and county being drafted into military service.

LOSES TWO DIAMONDS

Mr. Peter Zervas, the popular confectioner, last week had the misfortune to lose two handsome unmounted diamonds valued at $300. The stones were wrapped in an envelope and carried in his pocket and were either lost or stolen.

1,302 REGISTER IN THIS COUNTY

1,072 Were White Registrants and 270 Colored—Day Passed off Quietly

The total number of men registering in Montgomery county on last Thursday between the ages of 18 to 21 and 31 to 45, both inclusive, was 1,302. This was 67 in excess of the number estimated. The day passed off quietly and it is believed there were very few, if any, that failed to register. The office of the local board is now busy numbering the cards, making out duplicates, etc., and it will probably be sometime next week before any questionnaires will be mailed out.

GERMAN PEACE OFFER TURNED DOWN BY U. S.

The United States, as was fully expected, has unconditionally rejected Germany's peace feeler. In doing so the government has spoken for all the co-belligerents.

Also immediately after receiving the Austrian government's note from the Minister from Sweden, Mr. Ekengren, Secretary Lansing last night issued this formal statement:

"I am authorized by the President to state that the following will be the reply of this government to the Austro-Hungarian note proposing an unofficial conference of belligerents.

"The government of the United States feels that there is only one reply which it can make to the suggestion of the Imperial Austro-Hungarian government. It has repeatedly and with entire candor stated the terms upon which the United States would consider peace and can and will entertain no proposal for a conference upon a matter concerning which it has made its position and purpose so plain."

BIG CALL FOR OCTOBER

Provost Marshal General Crowder has issued a call for 181,838 men qualified for general military service to report at various camps prior to October 16th. All states have quotas to fill. Of the total 142,000 will be white registrants who will entrain between October 7th. and 11th. The remainder will be negroes who will move in two groups, 29,015, entraining between September 25th. and 27th. and 10,752 on October 16. Kentucky's quota is 7,843 and they will be sent to Camp Sevier, S. C. Men who registered last Thursday may be needed in some localities to fill the quotas, but it is not thought such will be the case here. It is hard to estimate how many men this call will take from Montgomery county but it will probably be in the neighborhood of 35.

LOCAL MAN HONORED

Mr. Henry R. Prewitt, President of the Exchange Bank, of this city, was honored at the recent meeting of the Kentucky Bankers' Association, by being unanimously elected Treasurer of the Association.

AMERICANS DOING WELL

The American Army under Gen. Pershing has made splendid progress in the last few days and are now in a position to bombard Metz one of if not the strongest fortified city in Germany. The line on which the advance was made was 40 miles long and has now been reduced to 20 miles. Thousands of prisoners were taken and large stores of supplies and ammunition taken.

French officers, in talking of the American drive on the St. Mihiel salient, describes it as one of the most successful of the entire war, and praise the Yanks for their fighting ability.

A new attack against the German lines is hourly expected as the answer to the Austrian peace proposals. Where the blow will fall is not indicated, but Washington officials believe Foch's strategy contemplates such a move. The greatest reticence is maintained regarding the tactics of the Americans in the St. Mihiel sector.

J. C. S. BLACKBURN

The death of "Jo" Blackburn is a fact to which many Kentuckians who have delighted in the lights and shadows of Kentucky life; in the State's unique and somewhat romantic reputation and standing in the community of States, will find it difficult to reconcile themselves.

Greater men than Blackburn have been known by the nation as men whose native land was the Bluegrass State. Greater politicians, as measured by aggregate results expressed in offices of honor and emolument have hailed from Kentucky, but greater figures upon the American "stump" and in the atmosphere of the sort of politics that was institutional in a majority of American States when Blackburn's career began, and during much of its continuance, have been rare.

The voice of "Jo" Blackburn: When shall we hear its like again? Such a voice was one of the major assets of Edwin Booth at least, if not the very kernel of his success. That voice was employed at a time when every political leader was an actor, every stump a stage, every assemblage at a public speaking an audience to be persuaded by the magnetism and the magic of the speaker; when the seeker for office studied the psychology of the crowd rather than pondered weighty and tedious problems of government.

When was there such a maker of phrases as "Jo" Blackburn; phrases designed to catch the popular fancy and stick in the popular mind? Woodford county was in his month, "the asparagus bed of the garden spot of God's country!" Kentucky could be described only by mentioning in a breath Mills Point and the Breaks of the Big Sandy. The man upon the other side of the argument—any argument—could be crushed before a gathering in a grove by the assertion that "he who dallies is a dastard, and he who doubts is damned."

Senator Blackburn could, if the occasion demanded it, borrow of the classic. He could, and did, paint evil actions as being done at midnight, "when thieves and cutpurses prowled abroad; when graveyards yawn," but he relied upon his own phrases mainly, and if he resorted to Shakespeare and turned the looming music of the bard to good account not one among 100 of his hearers suspected quotation or could have conceived of anyone but "Jo" originating anything half so convincing.

Senator Blackburn took his position with an eye upon the audience, and having taken it he fired rhetorical broadsides into the enemy. He was the leader of the fashion in his period of Southern, and mainly rural, politics. He did well what many lesser leaders did indifferently, and what a majority of them tried to do. His strength in a campaign was his personal following, made up of Democrats who called him by his first name in its abbreviated form and whose first names in a marvelous number of instances he could call when shaking hands. He knew no more of modern politics than one of Morgan's men might be expected to know of the machinery of modern warfare, and at last he went down in defeat, bewildered by the new tricks in a game which had ceased to be merely a matter between a stump orator and his friends.

The story has been told often, and it was applied recently to David Lloyd George, but it was at a political meeting in Kentucky that the enthusiastic constable pointed out his idol, saying, "That's Jo Blackburn," and, when a cynic replied that Jo Blackburn wasn't God, admitted the fact grudgingly but added, "Jo's still young."

SWINEBROAD

THE REAL ESTATE MAN

of Lancaster, Kentucky

W. E. MOSS, Advertising Manager

Senator Blackburn was a gentleman, and one whose social qualities made him popular in Washington and in Kentucky. Vitriolic, colloquial, speaking to "the boys" in their own language from the stump, he was off stage a man of genial and even gentle disposition. Offstage and on he was a capital raconteur, possessed of a keen sense of humor and with an anecdote to illustrate his argument upon any point under discussion.

His death removes a survivor of a definite period in Kentucky politics and ends an era which had every consolation that personal popularity and sway can give the vocational seeker for public office. If he was not a great statesman he was at least a self-reliant man who won distinguished honors by sheer weight of personality, by courage, by wit and humor and rhetorical cannonade, and was especially a gallant figure in the early years of his congressional career when he served with signal efficacy his party and his people of the South.—Courier-Journal.

PROVE YOUR PATRIOTISM

The United States Department of Agriculture co-operating with the Kentucky State Experiment Station is engaged in a campaign to eliminate the heavy annual loss caused by bunt or stinking smut of wheat. This object can readily be attained if the support of the farmers is sufficiently strong.

The treatment is safe, inexpensive and certain, and one can do nothing more patriotic than treat his seed. It is in addition, profitable.

The treatment is outlined elsewhere in this issue. There are several precautions to be observed:

First—A stronger solution than one pint of 40 per cent. formaldehyde solution to 40 gallons of water must NOT be used.

Second—The wet grain must NOT be covered more than four hours.

Third—The seed must then be spread out and occasionally stirred to make drying as rapid as possible.

sible. Forty per cent. formaldehyde solution can be obtained at any drug store for about 60c. a pint. One pint in 40 gallons of water is sufficient to treat from 40 to 70 bushels of seed wheat.

For complete information on seed treatment of all cereals for smut, write to the Division of Publications, United States Department of Agriculture, and ask for Farmers' Bulletin 939.

LETTER FROM S. O. WOOD

Camp Gordon, Ga.,

Saturday, September 7, 1918.

Dear Jake and Gemmill:

I have been intending to write you all ever since I broke into the Army and today is my first real opportunity. Arrived here last Sunday afternoon in company with about 350 other boys from Camp Taylor who had been recommended for the Central Officers Training School, and just as soon as we got in quarters we were put to work without delay and have been going at double-time ever since. Reveille at 5:20 and breakfast at 6:00. Odd for me, isn't it? The day's routine begins at 7:00 and we have drill and calisthenics and conferences and bayonet work until 11:30, after which we are given 30 minutes rest before dinner. At one we take up the afternoon's program which lasts until 4:30. Retreat is sounded at 5:15, then supper and two hour's study beginning at 7 o'clock. Lights are out at 9:30. During our spare time we are required to shave and bathe daily, wash our own clothes and keep our bunks and barracks clean, and sundry other things too numerous to mention. I forgot to mention that we stand all formations and take our daily five mile hike with rifles and bayonets and haversacks. We are given bayonet instruction under Capt. Stanfield, of the English Army, a veteran of many hard fights in France and a hard, peppery little man with the characteristic English mannerisms and accent. The work on a whole is enjoyable however, and I am doing my very best to make good.

There are several Kentucky boys in my company, but none from home. Joe Keller is at the training camp at Camp Taylor and I saw in the paper where Jack Winn made his commission. Chandler Fizer is still head cook in the old 36th Co., and Lewis Kilpatrick was in 3rd. Regimental Headquarters when I left. See in the home paper that Harry Howell, Frank Wyatt and Charlie Howe go in the next draft. It's a shame they didn't get in a training camp for officers. Reckon lots of the old boys who were glad a year ago that they were born a few years earlier are now not so hilarious. I understand that Bob Stoner and Carroll Jones are both here at Gordon, but, of course, I haven't had a chance to look them up owing to being in quarantine for two weeks.

I don't think I shall ever come back to Kentucky to live, but events there in the town that I shall always call home will ever be of interest and the people very dear. Being an old married man don't have the slightest effect upon my love for the "Old Kentucky Home."

We boys in khaki are in the midst of big things now and when we get overseas five million strong you folks may rest assured that we'll drink the Rhine dry. It seems to be the prevailing opinion among foreign army men that the war will end next year, but the Government entertains no such hope and are putting things through faster than ever.

The weather has been miserable since I've been here—a cold drizzling rain—but we work just the same. Wish I was privileged to tell you many things that would open your eyes.

Remember me to the boys in the office and all my friends and tell them I'll get a commission if work and study will earn it.

Cordially Yours,

$50,000 LOSS FROM

MILLERSBURG FIRE

Millersburg suffered a loss of nearly $50,000 last Monday when fire, originating in the home of Mrs. Sue Sandusky, caused by the explosion of a coal oil stove, destroyed nearly a whole business block. Rufus Butler's grocery store, Dr. Clay Burrough's dental parlors, Mrs. N. T. Rigdon's restaurant, Sam Philip's grocery, Willam Miller's barber shop and Thompson's grocery store were among the buildings damaged by the flames. All property was carried from the Exchange Bank before the fire reached the building, which was slightly damaged.

Mrs. Sandusky lived in a flat above the business houses and the fire quickly spread through below. The flames were aided by a stiff wind and it looked at one time as if the entire block would be destroyed. The efficient work of the local fire department and the timely arrival of the Carlisle department saved the remaining business houses in the block.

There was very little insurance on the business houses that were destroyed it was announced last night.

FALSE PATRIOTISM

We have heard quite a few married men, some of them with children, who are depending upon them for support, say they hesitated about claiming a deferred classification. This sentiment is so prevalent in the United States that it has become necessary for the authorities to take notice of it. To waive one's claim, merely adds work to the Local Board members, as they must ultimately search out the facts and act accordingly. The spirit which prompts such a course is praiseworthy, but is not what is desired by the government. As to the duties of the registrants we quote from a Washington article as follows:

"The Advisory Committees to the draft boards are empowered to elin deferred classification for registrants who are entitled to it, but who for patriotic reasons may object to making the claim for themselves. Provost Marshal Gen. Crowder has insisted that registrants entitled to such classification should make the claim when filling out their questionnaires as a patriotic duty to prevent unnecessary work by the draft boards."

LETTER FROM "OVER THERE"

Somewhere in France

August 2, 1918.

Dear Father:

I will drop you a few lines to let you know I am well and hope you are the same. How are you getting along any way, first rate I hope? I guess you think I am a long time answering your letter, well I am, but it is not always convenient to write, for we are here, yonder and everywhere.

We have stopped for a little while maybe, but by the time this letter reaches you I expect to be elsewhere.

How are all of the neighbors and what do they think of the war and the A. E. F.? I suppose the few soldiers that are back there for the A. E. F. have been giving you all a good idea what war is, to sum it up it is "hell." The few soldiers who have been sent back there do not know what it is nor what their comrades are going through with now. The Americans are up in the show and are showing that they are better fighters than the Hunns best troops which are the Bavarians and Prussian Guards and the Allies have them whipped even now I believe, although it may be some time before they give up, but sooner or later they will be crying for peace.

Well father, how is Leroy and his wife getting along, I hope he was not included in the draft, although we have a few married men over here? Is Edward still at home, if he is that is the best place for him?

Tell them they should write for I am always glad to hear from anyone back there and hope and trust that some day I will be with you all.

Well I will close for this time wishing you all the best of luck.

REQUEST TO SAVE MATERIALS

The Kentucky Utilities Company has received a letter from the Capital Issues Committee requesting that every saving possible be made in materials. The following letter is self-explanatory.

CAPITAL ISSUES COMMITTEE

Washington D. C.

August 23, 1918.

To Public Utilities Commissions and Municipal Officials:

You are, of course, familiar with the creation by Congress of the Capital Issues Committee for the purpose of giving effect to the Government's policy of "War Business First," by supervising the issuance of new securities for capital expenditures. It is plain that all of us must avoid every unnecessary use of capital, involving also the use of labor and materials, in order not to interfere with the financial and industrial requirements of the Government in its paramount task of making war.

If the men, money and material which the Government needs are to be made available for essential war purposes, there must necessarily be a considerable degree of sacrifice on the part of individuals, communities and corporations in adjusting themselves to the substitutions and changed standards which the situation compels. Existing facilities must be made to serve in place of new ones, regardless of temporary inconvenience and discomfort, unless the public health or paramount local economies necessity is involved.

May we suggest to you that these considerations apply with marked force to the public utility situation. The extensions and betterments which public service corporations are accustomed to make in normal times, either on the initiative of their own enterprise or by direction of the regulating commissions under which they operate, should, in our opinion, be postponed until after the war, unless an immediate war purpose is served, and may we ask of you consideration of the propriety of deferring even the performance of contractual obligations arising from the franchise or other local requirements, when no military or local economic necessity is served by such expenditures.

The Capital Issues Committee feels certain that your Commission will recognize the paramount need of the National Government when passing upon proposed additions and extensions by public utility companies, and asks that you co-operate in giving effect to the purposes of the Government by restricting every unnecessary use of capital, labor and materials for extensions, betterments, street paving, or other purposes, even waiving, if in your power, the legal requirements that obtain in times of peace, until the present emergency has passed.

Yours very truly,

CAPITAL ISSUES COMMITTEE.

YOU COUNT IN ONE WAY ONLY

Never, so much as now, has the individual counted for so little.

Individual rights, individual privileges, individual responsibilities have given way to the greater consideration, the welfare of the people as a whole.

For nations, not people or races, have taken in hand the destinies of the world. The individual has been pre-emptorily put aside.

Whether liberty shall live or perish from the earth is for determination in the aggregate. It is not for any one man to say.

The Kaiser soon is to realize this.

But there is one way in which you CAN count.

One way in which you may still make yourself felt throughout this storm-tossed world.

You can make your little individual contribution to the cause of freedom, of world democracy, or permanent peace.

You can buy a Liberty Bond.

You may otherwise be subordinate, effaced, shunted into comparative oblivion and made to feel that you no longer count.

But here you can take your little place in the sun.

It's a chance of a lifetime; THE CHANCE of yours.

Don't miss it.

How can you build roads without money?

Used to Make

Were superior because your childish appetite was healthy and vigorous.
Too many people have lost that zest for good things to eat largely because modern methods of living tend to create stomach and liver disorders. Thousands of people are not sick—but they don't feel well—something is lacking; they don't enjoy their food; they tire easily and work becomes drudgery; that indolent and don't care feeling is most often caused by a sluggish liver. A number of good remedies are on the market, but a new preparation called Jay's Pepsotone is prepared to meet just this condition. A few doses is all that is usually needed to put you back to your old self again. The formula is right on the bottle—it contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs and is a combination of vegetable extracts with pepsin so blended and compounded as to produce beneficial results rapidly. A pleasant, certain, and safe remedy and one that can be administered to children. It is for sale at all good druggists or sent on receipt of price, 50c. and $1, by the Pepsotone Company, Huntington, W. Va.

FARMERS ARE AGAIN ADVISED TO TREAT WHEAT

It is most desirable that the farmers be cautioned against sowing wheat that has any smut contamination, without treating it. The method is simple and inexpensive. Following is a verbatim copy of a bulletin on the subject by the College of Agriculture of the State of Missouri:

Wheat heads affected with covered smut show the glumes of chaff slightly apart with a dark colored grain between. The grain is really a smut ball, which on being crushed, breaks up into a very large number of minute dust-like particles, the smut spores. These have a very disagreeable odor. The spores, when the smut ball is broken, get on the sound grain and produce infection when the latter is planted in the soil. To prevent smut, the spores on the seed must be killed. All of the smut balls must be removed, for the spores in these are not killed by the treatment.
They are easily broken in drilling operations and hence may contaminate the seed.

Do not confuse the covered or stinking smut of wheat with the loose smut. The loose smut destroys the wheat head at flowering time.
At harvest time only a naked stalk is found. Loose smut cannot be controlled by the formaldehyde or copper sulphate treatments.

The solution of formaldehyde used for treating stinking smut of wheat is made by using one pint or one pound of commercial formalin (guaranteed 40 per cent solution of formaldehyde) to 40 gallons of water. Use either the dipping or sprinkling method. One gallon of solution is sufficient to treat one bushel of grain by either method.

Caution—Do not put treated seed on a smutted floor or in smutted sacks, nor sow with a smutted drill.
Smutted sacks should be soaked for 30 minutes in a strong solution made by putting one pint of formalin in ten gallons of water. Bins, floors and drills may be scrubbed with this strong solution.

1. Dipping—Take two half-barrels of tubs with holes and plugs near the bottom. Place one tub on two saw horses and fill two-thirds full with the solution of formaldehyde. Pour slowly into this solution one-half to one bushel of wheat seed, stirring thoroughly for five to ten minutes so that the smut balls, trash, etc., will reach the surface.
Skim this material off, then drain
the solution into the second tub.
Pour the seed into a pile on the floor.
Exchange position of tubs and repeat the operation. Cover the treated seed with sacks for four hours.
Sow at once or spread the seed out to dry.

2. Sprinkling—Remove smut balls, trash, etc., from the seed by thorough fanning. Spread the seed out on the floor or wagon bed in a layer of four to six inches deep.

Sprinkle the solution of formaldehyde, using a watering can, on the seed. Shovel the seed over thoroughly so that all the seed is moistened, then shovel the seed into a pile and cover with sacks for four to ten hours. Sow at once or spread the seed out to dry.

Dissolve one pound of copper sulphate, blue vitrol or bluestone, in four gallons of water. Either dip the seed in this solution or by spreading and sprinkling as methods as indicated for the formaldehyde treatment. It is, however, unnecessary to cover the seed after treatment; instead, spread it out at once to dry or sow immediately.

LETTER FROM FRANCE

August 15, 1918.

Dear Mother:

Will try to write you a few lines and see if everyone is still alive. This leaves me well as can be and feeling fine.

Saw an airplane fight the other day; six Germans and three American planes; just a little piece from where I stay and could see it all. I saw one of the Germans fall from his machine and it came down. The rest of them were so far away I could not see them, but could hear the shots. It was said that two of them were shot down. I got a piece of the one I saw fall; only a screw, but will send it to you for a souvenir.

Nono of the Americans were hurt.

I have a real nice job over here working on a switch board about fifteen feet under the ground but I can hear the big shells pass over my head early some mornings. Not much doing in the day time as most of it is done at night and early in the morning.

How is Bill getting along with his crop? Hope he does well this year. Tell Florian to drop me a few lines and let me know all of the news, and send me a paper over here. We get papers every day from New York, but it is not like one from home.

I guess you have heard from my insurance policy by now, haven't you? I was told the other day I would draw my bonds some time in the near future. The amount is for $108, and will send it to you as soon as I get it, for I don't need it over here. We get all we want to smoke and no stamps to buy, so I have no need for money; very little anyhow.

Well mother, be sure and write me once or twice a week as I am anxious to hear from home. So will close for this time with love to one and all. Tell them all to write to me.

As ever,

PVT. HARVEY WILLOUGHBY,
H'd'g. Co., 148 Inf., A. E. F.

THE HOSPITAL SITUATION

To the Citizens of Montgomery County:

When the Bigstaff residence property was sold, the generous people of Montgomery County decided to have a hospital, here at hand, where the sick and afflicted might have the nursing and care that only a hospital can give. It has not been right that our sick ones should have to be hurried away to Lexington, Louisville or Cincinnati, with the dangers attendant upon moving the very ill, or the wounded, and with the mental anxieties attendant upon

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady. Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kathleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Price, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child...I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time... I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. Cardui about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble', so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved...before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it.

separation and distance. When Mr. Chiles said, on the morning of the sale, that he would give $2,500 as a memorial to his mother, a subscription paper was started. Each one asked, whether of greater or lesser means, was asked for $100. Only some five declined; and with but one exception, they said they would help later. When the existence of the subscription paper was made known, a number volunteered their subscriptions. The community's entire spirit was warm, generous and cordial. On the day of the sale, and within a day or two after, the following subscriptions were made and (with the exception of $50 yet due) paid:

Total$7100.00

In addition there were two voluntary gifts, a total of $50.00, which will be embraced in a later list.

Almost without effort this $7,100 was obtained. The Bigstaff dwelling and lots were bought and paid for $6,440 in amount. After paying, recording and incorporating expenses, there is a balance in hand of something over $600.

Thereupon Messrs. Weber and Weber, the well-known and capable Cincinnati architects, who were here planning the Traders National Bank Building, offered without costs or charge, to make the necessary plans and specifications for the needed additions and changes in the dwelling to fit it for hospital purposes. Baths and linen rooms, additional patients' rooms, new plumbing, a heating plant, an operating room and equipment, had to be provided for. Messrs. Weber and Weber have now furnished the plans. No contract has been let, no contract will be let, until the money is in hand; but enough estimates of cost have been secured to let it be said that the cost will be about as follows:

Building and plumbing	$9000.00
Heating plant	1000.00

Total$10,000.00

Deducting the $600 on hand, leaves some $9,400.00 yet to be raised. It will need to be given by you Montgomery people. You who have given before can give more. You who have not given have now the opportunity. Your hospital will not be as big as St. Joseph's or the Good Samaritan; but it will be just

Saving Coal Saves Money

And Helps The Nation

There's a wealth of proof to show that your home may be thoroughly comfortable at a third or a half less fuel than you have been using. The Caloric Pipeless Furnace is a remarkable fuel conserver. Many say it saves half. Here is just one sample letter taken at random out of thousands which the manufacturers receive from pleased Caloric owners:

"I am heating very comfortably seven rooms and not using any more fuel than I did with a double heater, heating only two rooms.—S. P. SEIFERT."

The Original Patented Pipeless Furnace

Over fifty thousand homes, many of them in this state, have found this furnace the economical, common-sense method of keeping comfortable. They bought on a guarantee of real fuel saving and perfect satisfaction, and the Caloric made good.

One register delivers all the heat from the fuel directly into your living rooms and draws out the cold air, insuring an abundance of balmy, moist warmth right where you want it. The cellar is just right for the storage of perishable products.

The Caloric can be installed in a day. It is a triumph of engineering skill that embodies many patented features which have made it the leader and which are not found in imitations. Come in and see this wonderful furnace. We will tell you frankly whether it is adapted to your home. If we say it is, we will give you our personal guarantee that it will make good or we will take it out. Come in and talk it over.

THE BAN ON BEER

The Food Administration, with the approval of President Wilson, has very properly decided that the brewing of beer shall be suspended from December 1 next until further notice as a war measure. The purpose of the order is to save the fuel usually consumed by the breweries, to conserve the grain which goes into the beverage and to relieve the strain on railroad facilities by cutting of unnecessary transportation. When the question arises whether fuel, food and transportation facilities shall be used to serve the brewing interests at the expense of war requirements there can be but one answer. The brewing interests have got to give way.

The ban on the production of beer has nothing to do with prohibition. It has to do with winning the war. There is no more politics in it than there is in the conservation of wool or of platinum. It will be as heartily approved by those who drink beer as those who, confining themselves to water, would prevent other people from drinking it. The government knows what it is about, and every loyal citizen will cheerfully acquiesce in its decision.—Philadelphia Record.

A Business Education Is An Investment, Not An Expense

The expense of a course of study should be the last item to be taken into account. The VALUE of education, not its cost, should be mainly considered. Good instruction will cost more than that which is inferior, and much education will cost more than little. The great question here should be: Is the course worth its cost?

The selection of a business school is an investment problem. You have so much time and money to spend in preparing for work. What will give you the largest return on your investment? The old adage about the best being the cheapest is particularly true in this case, and if you will take the pains to investigate you will come to the Fugazzi School.

PERSONAL INTEREST HELPFUL ELEMENT OF STUDENTS' SUCCESS

so says Miss Lucie G. Bishop, who is now holding a responsible position with one of Lexington's leading firms. As Miss Bishop's letter is a good example of the kind of letters we are receiving all the time from our former pupils we are publishing it in full:

Lexington, Ky., July 16th, 1918.

Miss Irene Fugazzi,
Fugazzi School of Business,
Lexington, Ky.

Dear Miss Fugazzi:

Having recently graduated from your School of Business, and since, because of the fine training received there, I am filling a responsible position in the business world, I am writing to thank you not only for that training, but for the personal interest which you and your excellent corps of teachers manifested, at all times, in my progress and comfort. Your devotion to your students while in school and your abiding interest in them when they go into business are most helpful elements in their future success, and at the same time cause them to remember the institution with grateful affection.

Wishing your continued success and happiness, and again thanking you for the opportunity offered by your school, I am,
Sincerely yours,
LUCIE G. BISHOP.

What we did for Miss Bishop we can do for you, if you have average ability and will do your part.

THE FOURTH LIBERTY

LOAN DRIVE

As the attitude of the press is often misunderstood by the public and in view of the fact that the next Liberty Loan Drive will start shortly the following article from the Macon, Ga. Republican, is re-produced. We have been requested to secure advertising from banks, merchants and professional men and when solicited we trust that these men will remember that this is no catch-penny scheme of the newspapers but that they are acting under the instruction and solicitation of the government.

"If that ad ought to be run why don't you run it yourself? Looks funny that you would ask us to pay for your patriotism."

The remark was made by a merchant one day to a Macon, Mo., newspaper man who was going around town asking the merchants to sign a Liberty Loan advertisement, each to pay his pro rata of the cost, which would be individually small.

It did no good for the newspaper man to explain to the merchant that he was asking him to share in the expense of the advertisement at the suggestion of the Government, and that the newspaper had already given free a great deal more than a page to help the Government in its campaign.

Later on, there was another campaign for the sale of Thrift Stamps and Baby Bonds. A big day was planned and committees appointed to raise a fund to meet the expenses. Among the expenses were those for newspaper advertisements. In going around town the committeemen said that they found decided hostility towards giving any money to the newspaper because a great many people regarded it as a graft; they thought the newspaper ought to give the advertising free for a patriotic occasion. The committee explained that the newspapers had already made a generous donation and that they had given many free columns of advertising to the event.

It made no difference; the contributors said they didn't care about donating money for newspaper advertisements—"to help out the newspapers," they called it! Newspaper men do not like to ask merchants to assume financial obligations for patriotic advertising and they do it because of the suggestion by those in charge of the campaigns.

All the newspaper wants is the assurance of an income that will permit it to live and pay its employees."

Taxpayers Notice!

My tax books are now ready and I ask the Taxpayers of the county to call and make early settlement of their taxes. Don't delay but come at once, settle your taxes and get them off your mind besides aiding me in making an early and complete collection. I am personally charged this year with all poll taxes and intend to make a complete collection of same. Office will be open every day from now on for this purpose.

Respectfully,

JOHN G. ROBERTS,

Sheriff Montgomery County.

THE ROAD HOG

We have had a number of people to complain to us that the drivers of automobiles have crowded them nearly off the road. Those that use cars should remember that the drivers of horse vehicles have the same right to use the pikes as they have and should give them at least one half of the right-of-way. The feeling against automobiles is gradually diminishing and the owners of cars should do anything in reason to keep the good will of the public. Machine owners remember the other fellows rights as well as your own and don't try to take all the road.

In the Free-for-all Trot at Lexington the four fastest trotters ever gotten together are to start: St. Frisco 2:01½, Mable Trask 2:01½, Lu Princeton 2:02½, Miss Bertha Dillon (4) 2:02½.

NEW RED CROSS DRIVE

Mr. Herbert Hoover has asked the American Red Cross to collect an additional 5,000 tons of clothing for the Belgians. The date set for the campaign is September 23-30, 1918.

Mr. Hoover enabled:

"The 10,000,000 imprisoned people in occupied Belgium and France are facing shame, suffering, disease, and some of them death for the lack of clothing this winter. They must be helped. I hope the Red Cross will undertake a renewed campaign to obtain this clothing in America. It can only come from us. Your first campaign yielded magnificent results, bringing in fully 5,000 tons of clothing in good condition. But much more is needed if these war ravaged people are to get through the winter in decency and safety."

Every household has some spare clothing worn or outgrown of little ones here but desperately needed by the destitute abroad. This extract from a letter of a well-to-do lady of Brussels, shows the condition:

"Perhaps you will laugh when you hear that I wear a cloak made of my husband's garde civique overcoat, a waist made from his football shirt, and a skirt made of dyed bedsheet. Mother had a suit made of the table cloth, J. and M. have cloaks made of old blankets, S. a dress made of burlap."

It is now the privilege of the people of Montgomery county to contribute, without loss or inconvenience to themselves, to relieving the wretchedness of the destitute abroad.

Mens' and womens' underclothing shoes, womens' dresses, skirts and waists, mens' suits, overcoats, garments for children, woollen goods of any kind whatsoever, and in addition, piece goods of warm cotton flannel and other kinds of cloth from which to make garments for babies, all these, anything of practical nature will be gratefully received.

Garments need not be in perfect condition. A hundred thousand destitute women in the occupied regions are eager to earn a small livelihood by repairing gift clothing and making new garments adapted to needs with which they are familiar.

Contributions may be left at the Rest Room, or in case you cannot deliver them, they will be called for.

Do not wait for a member of the committee to solicit you for contributions.

Bring your offering next week to the Rest Room, or phone those in charge that you have something to contribute and it will be called for.

Devote the remainder of this week to collecting your things. Do not be afraid that anything plain, warm and practical is not good enough for these unfortunates who have no clothing except what they get from the charity of the American people. Be ready then to help Montgomery County make a success of this as of other drives.

Remember, September 23-30, 1918.
MONTGOMERY CO. RED CROSS.
